DEALING IN HUMAN HAIR.

How Makers of Wigs and Switches Treat Their Stock, to Trade.

"Dealing in human hair is a peculiar business," said the proprietor of a wig-making establishment to a reporter. "People do not understand the ins and outs of a business that must on its face seem so simple."

"The more matter of obtaining hair with which to make wigs, switches and other hairwork to adorn heads peevishly favored by nature seems easy, but it is far from so. We have to exercise the greatest care in buying hair, it being absolutely necessary to know from what source it has been obtained. A great deal of hair comes from the ash barrels and garbage piles. You can see that material of this kind would not be at all desirable, yet people often wonder why one wig costs four times as much as another when in appearance both are the same."

"The source from which the hair is obtained has a great deal to do in determining the price of the goods. If hair has been cut from a fever patient, the price asked is considerably lower than if it had been cut from the head of a healthy person. Hair retains disease germs longer than anything else. That this is appreciated is shown by the fact that even after hair found in uncertain places has been put through the severe cleansing process to which all the material used is subjected, still it does not command the same price as the healthy article. One would think that this process would kill all disease germs, but it does not seem to increase the value of each hair."

"When hair is collected, it is thrown into vats of boiling water, where it is left to boil for a considerable time. After that it is put through a chemical preparation, and then, after being washed out and dried in sizes, it is laid away for a year. Whenever hair that has not been treated at least a year. Each box is marked with the date on which the hair was treated, the place from which it came, etc., so that we have a full history of every bit of hair in stock."

"We meet some peculiar people in our business. You would soon be convinced that women cannot claim exclusive title to vanity. We find men who are hairdressers more difficult to please than women. They insist upon having their bald spot covered just so, and their way invariably happens to be the only way in which it cannot be fixed."--Pittsburg Dispatch.

AN ECICLE NEWSPAPER

The Brilliant Idea of an Australian to Make Every Gentleman's Co. Dress

An Australian confectioner has had a brilliant idea which may revolutionize confectionery and render confectioners obsolete as a means of increasing sales. It has occurred to this confectioner to make an edible newspaper. He has accordingly put out a sample number of a journal, which is printed upon a thin paste of dough instead of upon paper and with liquid chocolate instead of ink. This edible newspaper, which contains the past few years news of a certain day is made of a very palatable paste in which, when the purchaser has read the news to eat up his newspaper. In this way the publisher of the paper may reasonably hope that if he mixes his dough with a skill and honesty and cooks it to a turn his paper will be liked, because if its news and editorials are not rejected its substance may be.

On the other hand, if he neglected his paste and made it too "short" or too tough or so selected to put in spite enough to make his paper reject, the literary matter might render the confectioners of the country with certain classes of the population. People, however, would probably come to demand that both the literary and the confectionery of the newspaper should be equally to their taste, and a new cause for complaint on the part of readers of newspapers would be introduced.--Boston Transcript.

CONJUGAL LIFE.

Interesting Statistics of the Last Year Just Been Given out by the Government.

The first data on conjugal life in the United States ever gathered by the government are given in a census bulletin. It shows that of a total population of 62,632,350 in 1920 almost three-fifths were single, a little more than one-third married, and not quite one-twentieth widowed. The forces con-stituted a small fraction of 1 per cent.

The actual numbers of the classes are as follows: Single, 37,120,667; widowed, 2,976,627; unknown, 70,211; married, 23,331,434; divorced, 120,030.

The males constituted over 51 per cent of the total population. Of 23,037,466 males in the country, 10,945,970 were single, 11,205,228 married, 815,437 widowed, 40,101 divorced. Of the females, 11,138,938 were single, 11,126,166 married, 2,154,615 widowed, 71,885 divorced.

The proportion of widows, says the report, was nearly constant, as great as of widowers, indicating that a greater or portion of widowers remarry than widowers, while figures show that divorced men have remarried to a greater extent than divorced women.

Of the married males, there were 23 out of 11,209,008 under 15 years of age, 585,748 out of 3,104,823 between 15 and 24 years, 1,738,920 out of 2,435,604 between 25 and 34 years, 809,925 out of 1,233,719 35 years and over. Of married females, there were 1,101 out of 10,127,123 under 15 years, 813,983 out of 3,987,065 between 15 to 24 years, 1,444,712 out of 3,091,763 from 25 to 34 years, 1,805,664 out of 2,520,460 from 35 to 44 years, 1,717,204 out of 2,182,966 from 45 to 54 years, 2,568,300 out of 2,340,021 from 55 to 64 years, 1,786,970 out of 2,450,878 from 65 to 74 years, 965,027 out of 1,430,907 from 75 to 84 years, 418,390 out of 1,198,640 85 years and over.

FACTS AND FIGURES.

Nuts for the "Enterprise" to Crack.

CANDELARIA, July 18, 1894.

ED. JOURNAL.—The Enterprise does not seem to be convinced that there was a Silver party in the State of Nevada in 1892, although I furnished it with a liberal extract from Mr. Newland's speech, delivered by him at the meeting in Carson City on the 12th of November, 1892, in proof of it. The Enterprise takes the ground that "a man in order to hold an argument and give it any force must have some principle of fact or figures. J. G. has none."

As facts "I gave the records in" the office of the Secretary of State, and the statement of Mr. Newlands referred to above. As figures, I'll give Mr. Newlands and Mr. Woodburn, since both were running against each other for the same office, in which each cut a different figure. The Enterprise may contend that Mr. Woodburn "was not in it," but I know better for I saw and heard him when he delivered his campaign speech in this town. He spoke for the Republican nominees.

The Enterprise claims that Mr. Newlands is a Republican. Did the Republicans run two candidates against each other in that campaign? Did Mr. Newlands speak like a Republican at the meeting in Carson referred to?

Let me repeat some of what the Enterprise refused to accept as argument in my previous letter. Mr. Newlands said:

"The Republican party, whose main purpose seemed to be to protect Eastern manufacturers, thought that the memories of the war and sentimental considerations would hold the Western States loyal to its organization. It neglected western interests; it was in favor of closing our silver mines and stopping the manufacture of money with a view to increasing the value of the accumulated stock of money of the East. The Silver party of Nevada, whose overwhelming victory we now celebrate, should hold the organization intact, its forces undiminished, until free coinage restores our predominant industry. To falter now would be to risk the loss of all we have gained."

Did any of the Republican nominees or office-holders, or even plain Republican voters express their views in the situation in that manner? I think if they would have been inconsistent; and so would Mr. Newlands have been if he were a Republican. If this be correct then I have proved my case by "argument."

But there is still a point left on which the Enterprise dwelt in its reference to my late letter. It says:

"We still assert, and it cannot be successfully contradicted, that there was no such party recognized in the United States in 1892 as the Silver party. In Nevada the political parties opposed to each other were Populist, Republican, Democrat and Prohibitionist."

Mr. Newlands, in his address in the House of Representatives, declared that he occupied an anomalous position, in that he was the only Congressman representing a party whose name implies its purpose—the Silver party.

Will the Enterprise tell me whether the Representative of that party was allowed the usual privileges of a Congressman or whether he was told that his party was not recognized? On the answer to this question will depend whether I shall again refer to this point.

The other part, that which refers to the number and kinds of names the parties in Nevada fought under, is best ascertained at the office of the Secretary of State at Carson City, Nevada.

While I am about it I may as well ask the Enterprise what those 2,000 silver men, called "National League of Republican Clubs," have agreed to do about silver? What they have done with Don Cameron's letter that advised them to adopt a four worded platform if they wanted to gain a permanent and substantial victory. Did they adopt his platform of "High tariff and free silver?" No!

Mr. Newlands does exercise his privilege to vote on the tariff question according to Nevada's interests as he may view them; but how much would his individual opinion on silver legislation stand for in caucus, or in a Committee on Platform and Resolutions in a National Republican Convention? For just as little as did Cameron's letter in the late Republican League that met at Denver June 26th.

The Enterprise finally says that "no stronger Republican sentiment could be advocated by any man that has the interest of Nevada at heart" than the sentiments uttered by Mr. Newlands at Carson when he said:

"The Silver party of Nevada, whose overwhelming victory we now celebrate, should hold its organization intact, its forces undiminished, until free coinage restores our predominant industry."

And in the face of this the Enterprise asks me to "get out of the Populist quodkand and build upon the sure foundation of sound Republican doctrine." How can I do both? Follow the Republicanism of Mr. Newlands, which tells us to keep the third party "intact and its forces undiminished," and also shall get out and join the Republicans of the Enterprise stripe that have no idea of restoring silver? I'll "arbitrate" and "compromise" with the Enterprise on the following conditions: I'll stay with the Silver party until the free coinage of silver is restored, and if the Republican party shall be the one that restores it, I'll return to that party out of gratitude for what it shall have done, just as I have left it on account of its treachery to silver in the past.

COINING SILVER.

The Carson Mint to Resume Work.

The Call says John Daggett, Superintendent of the Mint in San Francisco, has received orders from the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington to coin an unlimited number of standard silver dollars until the end of the month, and during the present money stringency to coin gold currency to the ordinary capacity of the mint.

Similar instructions were also issued to mint authorities at Carson City, New Orleans and Philadelphia and with their joint efforts it is quite safe to say that nearly $3,000,000 will be turned out by the first of August. The silver to be first coined will be blanks and ingots, of which there is said to be sufficient in the mints of San Francisco and New Orleans alone to coin about $1,500,000.

Do Not Credit It.

The members of the A. R. U. in Reno did not take any stock in the reports received last night of the strike being declared off. There are visiting members here from Wadsworth and Truckee, one of the latter of whom came through from Sacramento yesterday morning, and they all agree that such an action cannot be taken by a Mediation Committee, nor can a Committee order a strike. Under their laws the situation that calls for a strike or a settlement is carefully canvassed by a committee, who report the causes for warranting a strike, or the concessions to be made or conditions of a settlement to the head of a division or section, the matter is presented to local assemblies or lodges of the Railway Union and acted upon and a three-fourth vote carries the question. Each local head reports the action to the head of the division and he to the general head or committee. The order is then issued to strike or declare off, as the case may be. One lodge cannot, under the law, act independently of another, nor can a division, but the supreme head can order a certain section to take action independently of another section if the situation demands it for the good of the Union.

Considering this and if the organization is as thorough as the strikers claim, it is of little use to give credence to the contradictory rumors one hears, for when a settlement comes the members will likely know what the outcome is to be before outsiders.

Church Notices.

Congregational Church.—Rev. T. P. Bradshaw will preach at the Congregational Church on Sunday morning at 11 A. M. The public cordially invited. No services in the evening.

Methodist Church.—Mornings subject: "The great strike of 1894 and its lessons." Evening subject: "The Bible a wonderful book." This will be the first of a series of lectures on the Bible. An answer will be given during the course to many perplexing questions. Epworth League meets at 6:15 P. M. Everybody invited.

Baptist Church.—Services as usual both morning and evening. A cordial invitation extended to all. Strangers and visitors will be made welcome.

Unity Congregation.—Library Hall—Services at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Morning subject: "The religion of Zoroaster." Evening: "The Sunday question." Sunday School at 12 M. All are cordially invited.

A Generous Gift.

At a regular meeting held last evening the Virginia Miners' Union voted $1,000 to the A. R. U. to aid in its present contest with Pullman and the railroad companies. The gift is a very generous one and will, no doubt, be very gratefully received by the railroad men. Generosity is characteristic of the Virginia Miners' Union and its brother organizations, and this good deed is in keeping with its past record. Everybody hopes the money will be applied where it will do the most good.

The Mechanics' Union will probably make an appropriation in aid of the strikers to-night.

A committee from the Miners' Union will circulate a subscription list on the Comstock in aid of the strikers, and all persons and firms who feel inclined to do so will have an opportunity to contribute.—Chronicle.

A Defined Bargain.

That is, as Webster defines it. According to the dictionary a bargain is "a gainful or satisfactory transaction," mind that word "satisfactory." Our definition of bargain varies not one jot from the accepted authority. In this store of ours the transaction is always "gainful," for the customer, "satisfactory" for both buyer and seller. There is a sample lot of "bargains" as we understand the word, offered by the Palace Dry Goods and Carpet House in their new ad. to-day.

Dr. Patterson's residence is the brick building on the northeast corner of Sierra and Fifth streets, two blocks north of Opera House.

Pullmans are Empty.

The Drivers' Journal, published at Chicago, says: "A noticeable feature of the strike is the absence of passengers in the Pullman cars attached to the trains that are being hauled in and out of the cities by railroads. While ordinary cars are packed to the platform many of the sleepers do not contain a single passenger. Whether travelers refrain from using them from fear or out of sympathy with the boycott is a matter of conjecture. Both causes, no doubt, contribute to the result."

"I think a candid appeal to the public not to use the Pullman service would be far more effective as against the Pullman Company and much less disastrous to the general public," said a trainman talking on the subject. "The strike hurts everybody save Pullman, for he gets mileage from the railway companies for every car that runs. If people refuse to use the service the railroads would soon find it to their advantage to throw Pullman over and run their own sleeping cars as the Milwaukee, Great Northern and Canadian Pacific are now doing."

Traffic Resumed.

Agents at various points received orders yesterday to take freight for shipment. It was presumed that trains would move on schedule time for all points. Passenger train No. 4 from Ogden was reported about four hours late, and train No. 1 from San Francisco five hours late, this would bring them here at an early hour this morning, but owing to the caution in running the trains, time will necessarily be lost and Nos. 1 and 4 may not reach here until nine or ten o'clock. A number of freights arrived and departed yesterday, besides the locals north and south, so that matters and things begin to assume their regular order.

Registry Books Open.

Justice Linn, having received the necessary blanks, opened his books yesterday for the purpose of registering the names of voters in this precinct. Over twenty registered as soon as the books were opened. It will be necessary for every person who desires to vote at the coming election to register, as the registry agent, under the law, is not permitted to carry forward any names from the books of the former year. It will be well, considering this, for every voter to attend to the matter personally while it is in his mind and not delay until too late.

Grand Jury Drawn.

The following citizens were drawn yesterday by Judge Cheney and Commissioner McLaughlin as Grand Jurors, to appear Thursday August 2d, at 10 o'clock A. M.: M. Nathan, B. G. Clow, H. P. Kraus, Wm. Thompson, W. H. Patterson, A. C. Bragg, Robert Lewers, Francis Robb, John E. Bray, H. L. W. Knox, J. M. McCormack, O. H. Perry, B. F. Bobo, S. M. Jamison, George F. Turrittin, George E. Holesworth, Geo. O. McNeess, M. E. Ward, R. Ryland, Sol Levy, E. C. Leadbetter, T. P. Bradshaw, George Larcombe and Dan Powell.

A "Subject" of the United States. The Publishing Company insists on the term, "American subject," and misquotes Webster to substantiate its drive. The great lexicographer never used the term "American subject" or "a subject of the United States," and "subject" has never been applied to a citizen of a Republic, except by the Publishing Company or somebody, if such a body exists, fully as ignorant.

A Woman Dog Fancier.
 A New York woman has recently turned her attention to the breeding of the tiny dog which of late years have been so fashionable, and a recent lunch show demonstrated her success beyond peradventure. She has sold a collie for her kennel for $300, and other sales of equal importance are now being negotiated. As a dog fancier she brings to bear all the intelligence of a man and more sympathy. The mothers of the wee doggies receive an amount of care at her hands that they have never known before, and the result is that the various breeds cannot help being improved.
 Why should not this field of labor suggest similar ones to women? Why may not those of gentler sex so infuse themselves that they may successfully superintend the propagation of all classes of valuable animals? Woman's native compassion and her conscientious attention to domestic life are eminently fitted to the performance of such tasks. It is to be hoped that the woman dog fancier's example will be followed.—James Miller Monthly.

Quaker City Wheelwomen.
 It is a remarkable thing on fair days
 to see how rapidly and with what skill
 as well as grace the women and the girl bicyclists (and there are a great many of them) go spinning along Broad street.
 It is especially odd to see them pass horse after horse, passing all sorts of vehicles by, until finally they are out of sight. Indeed a skillful girl cyclist has been known to go from Broad and Spruce streets to the park on her wheel in less than half the time it takes a horse to make the same distance. That certainly is a feat. The women and girls fond of this sport do not bother themselves much about clothing, and lots of the young girls may be seen any day riding in their usual everyday garb without any special accessories or "tricks," such as in the early days of the sport were often considered requisite.—Philadelphian.

Don't Like the Sargents.
 British naval experts, on the whole,
 are not particularly enthusiastic as to the merits of the United States cruiser Chicago. It is admitted that the ship is very smart, but they are too joyfully looking altogether to please the British eye. The vessel looks well, but being old, as warships go, she lacks many improvements which are to be found in the later built ships. One chief complaint is that the ship is too old, and that the chief merit consists in routine and general seaworthiness, and it is only adds that "the ship is a very fine vessel, is quite a credit to the navy."—London.
